CIO Demands Dem Backing For 'Roosevelt Program'

'SISTIE' CUTS HER WEDDING CAKE—"Sistie" Dall Boettiger, 21, darling of the White House when her grandfather, Franklin D. Roosevelt, was president, and her husband, Van H. Seagraves, 25, cut their wedding cake shortly after being married yesterday in a private Episcopal ceremony at the home of the bride's parents in Phoenix, Ariz. Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt was among the family witnesses at the wedding.

'Tips' on Bombing Keep Police Busy

Police investigation of the bombing of the Crescent cafe resolved itself today largely into a determined pursuit of a number of anonymous telephone calls.

Chief Jesse J. Schwab said police had received numerous calls from persons who volunteered information but refused to give their names.

The calls, he said, had proved both helpful and annoying but, he added, every "tip" was being run down in the hope that one of them might be "on the level" and lead to eventual apprehension of the unidentified man who planted the bomb in the rear of the cafe in the early morning hours Monday.

Meanwhile, Roy Reeder and James Peck, the two firemen injured when they attempted to drop the bomb into a tub of water, were reported in "good condition" at General hospital.

Two policemen also injured in the explosion, Patrolmen William D. Mitchell and Joseph P. Butler, were released from the hospital yesterday.

TASK MADE DIFFICULT

"With the motive still in doubt, our task of finding the man who planted the bomb is being made doubly difficult," Schwab said.

Prosecutor Theodore Lutz discounted a report that the bombing might have had a labor connection.

"There is no evidence to indicate that any labor union is involved," he said. "Hoodlum action and racketeering by labor organizations are unknown in Mansfield and Richland county."

R. J. Matthes, proprietor of the cafe, said he had "never had any difficulty with the union."

Lutz expressed the opinion the bomber placed his lethal weapon at the rear of the cafe "for personal reasons," adding that "the police department is investigating all angles."

NO ENEMIES

Matthes again emphasized that he had no personal enemies nor, he said, had he had difficulty with any customer.

He continued to hold to the belief the bomb-planter visited the wrong building despite the fact that both Chief Schwab and Prosecutor Lutz said they virtually had ruled out the possibility that the bomb was placed in the wrong spot.

Possibility of a federal investigation of the bombing appeared remote. Since the Army recruiting station is located next door to the cafe, there were reports that the Federal Bureau of Investigation might be called into the case.

But Capt. Robert L. Pine, commanding officer of the recruiting station, said he had reported the incident to Army authorities in Columbus yesterday but 'that "I don't think there will be any independent investigation on the federal level."

British Fight Malaya Reds

SINGAPORE — (INS) — British forces pressed an all-out offensive today against what was officially termed a communist bid to seize power in Malaya.

Rocket-firing spitfires dive-bombed an encampment of communist guerrillas 300 miles north of Singapore, while British and Gurkha troops smashed into the jungles around Johore, Perak and Pahang.

British naval units patrolled the Malayan coastline to stop smuggling of arms and ammunition to the communist bands from Siam and Southern China.

Coal Strike Faces Move

Government Set To Begin Action

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The government was reported ready today to take the first step toward requesting a court order to halt the three-day strike in the steel industry's "captive" soft coal mines.

Robert N. Denham, general counsel for the National Labor Relations board, was expected to complete the preliminaries today by issuing an unfair labor complaint against John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers.

The complaint was requested by 10 big steel producers whose soft coal mines were struck Tuesday in a dispute over Lewis' demand for a union shop contract. They charged it was illegal for Lewis to insist on the union shop without agreement to the rank-and-file preference election required by the Taft-Hartley act.

The strike not only halted coal production for the country's biggest steel mills but caused sympathy tieups in some commercial mines that have accepted the new contract. Besides the 40,000 workers in the captive pits, some 15,000 miners in 42 commercial pits in the UMW's Pittsburgh region were idled by the dispute.

"We're advising these men to go to work," said William Hynes, president of the UMW district there, "but they're just lounging around waiting to see what happens."

Informed sources said they expected Denham to ask the federal district court today or tomorrow to order Lewis and the miners to halt the strike and stop insisting on the union shop clause without a labor board election.

Cargo Moved From Tanker

HOLLAND, Mich. —(UP)— The oil tanker Edgewater anchored off Holland today to transfer its cargo of nearly 1,000,000 gallons of gasoline saved from a fire which raked the stern of the ship and injured 10 crewmen.

The Edgewater was towed down the shore of Lake Michigan from the vicinity of Ludington where an explosion and fire broke out yesterday and resulted in hurried rescue work by Coast Guard ships and a Catalina flying boat.

The Edgewater's rudder was disabled.

Oil Workers Begin Strike

CLEVELAND —(AP)— Some 1,100 members of the CIO Oil Workers union quit today at four branches of the Standard Oil company in a wage dispute.

The walkout, called last night for 7 a. m. today, will be extended to two additional units later today, union officials said.

Affected by the initial stoppage were the company's No. 1 and 2 refineries, Canfield Oil plant No. 1 and Lithograph can factory, all in Cleveland.

Squabbles Develop In Party

Civil Rights Plank Sought

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) The CIO today made a hard-pounding demand that the Democrats tie their 1948 campaign to a "Roosevelt platform."

And that was the opening firecracker of a day that soon began to get noisy with party arguments over civil rights.

The civil rights plank rushed to the forefront as a platform drafting committee of 19 Democrat leaders, preparing for next week's Democratic convention, moved into its second day of public hearings.

CIO Secretary James B Carey, a little man with a mop of curly hair and a deep determined voice, urged in a statement prepared for delivery that the Democrats pledge:

1. Federal laws against lynching, poll taxes, discrimination in employment, and racial separation in the armed services

2. Repeal of the Taft-Hartley labor law.

3. Public housing, price controls; health insurance; greater social security; higher minimum wages; federal aid to education; an excessive profits tax, and other measures.

The CIO (Congress of Industrial Organizations) has not been without influence in Democratic councils during the last dozen years.

THROWS CHALLENGE

Today it threw its challenge of a "Roosevelt platform" into a Roosevelt-less party ripped by dissension.

Yesterday, the platform drafting committee gave Morris Sayre, president of the National Association of Manufacturers (NAM), a rough afternoon indeed.

Sayre presented the identical program he had offered the Republican platform committee last month. The Republicans did not ask him a single question. Yesterday the Democrats bounced questions and criticisms at him for nearly two hours.

Senator Theodore Green of Rhode Island told Sayre: "You were hoping, I suppose, that the Democrats would adopt your program and lose the campaign in consequence."

Douglas Mum On Candidacy

LOSTINE, Ore. —(INS)— Justice William O. Douglas of the U. S. Supreme court was still aloof from politics today after a renewed grilling over whether he would accept the Democratic nomination for President or vice president.

In answer to questions, Douglas said:

"I have absolutely nothing to say.

"I have tried to discourage my friends from joining a move to put my name up for either office. I have no connection with any Douglas-for-President clubs or similar organizations anywhere in the country."

BODY UNIDENTIFIED

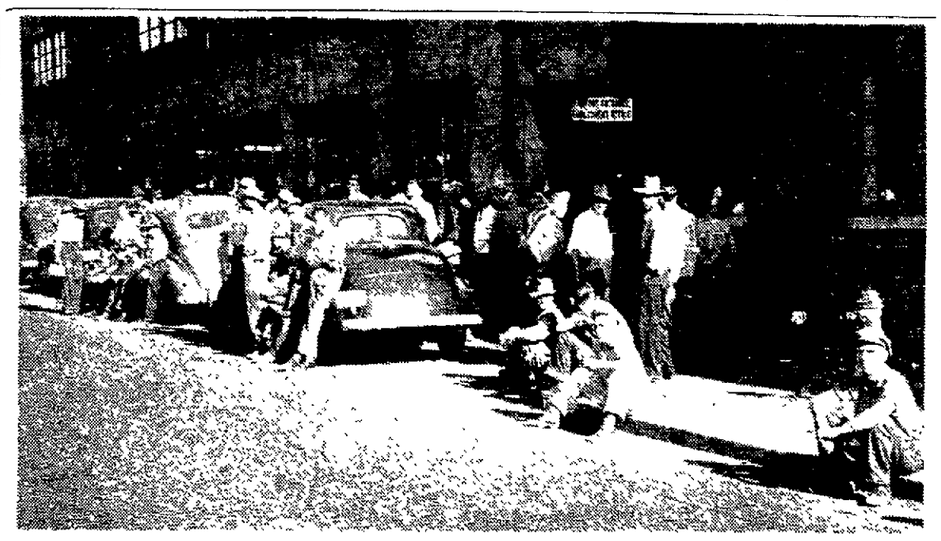
LORAIN — (AP) — Identity of a middle-aged man whose body was recovered from Lake Erie a few miles west of here remained a mystery today.

Financial Worries Trouble Democrats

WASHINGTON—(INS)—Financial worries faced the Democrats today on the eve of their national convention opening in Philadelphia Monday.

Unless there has been a sudden spurt in donations, the convention will open with approximately a quarter million dollars in the Democratic campaign chest.

While this is not "hay", it's only a small kitty as presidential elections go. It is far short of the hope chest already amassed by the Republicans, with more funds constantly pouring in.



WORKERS STRIKE—A few of the 500 striking workers of the Humphryes Manufacturing company are shown as they congregated at the factory entrance this morning and refused to go to work. The men assembled later for a meeting at the union hall and agreed to return to their jobs Friday morning.

Dewey Hit By Teachers

'Lobby' Charge Reply Requested

CLEVELAND (AP)— Representatives of America's teachers were ready today to rebuke Gov. Thomas E. Dewey unless he explained to their satisfaction a report he made unkind remarks about the teachers' lobby.

The delegation from the Republican presidential nominee's own state of New York was especially upset and injured by his failure to answer their request that he clarify his views for some 3,500 educators meeting her in the 86th annual National Education association convention.

John A. Cullen of Mount Vernon, N. Y., new state director and a teacher of aviation mechanics, said:

"This is a slap in the face to the teachers, especially in New York. We sent him a decently worded note asking his side. We didn't condemn him in public. All we want to do is to hear what Mr. Dewey has to say about this."

By "this," Cullen meant statements which Columnist Drew Pearson said Dewey made last month at a governors' conference in Portsmouth, N. H.

The Pearson column, read in a general session yesterday, reported Dewey tried in vain to get other governors to fight the teachers' lobby with a $50,000 publicity campaign The column said further that Dewey described teachers' propaganda for pay raises as "the biggest lie since Adolf Hitler."

NEA President Glenn E. Snow of St. George, Utah, said every effort was being made to get Dewey to send a satisfactory answer today.

Delegates regarded as unsatisfactory a telephoned denial of the criticism which Dewey authorized his secretary, James Hagerty, to make Tuesday to Martin L. Wilson, a New York City NEA delegate and a political supporter of the governor.

Canoeists Find River Too Tough

MARIETTA — (UP) — Old man river, two Marrietta college students decided today, is too tough for canoeing.

Charles Weckman, of Gallipolis, and Richard Winslow, of Towson, Md., have abandoned their planned trip by canoe from Gallipolis to New Orleans and are now back in Gallipolis after fighting the Ohio river for the past two weeks.

500 Workers Off Jobs Today

One-Day Strike at Humphryes Ended

Approximately 500 workers at the Humphryes Manufacturing company plant were on strike today, but union officials said they had agreed to go back to their jobs tomorrow morning.

The workers are affiliated with Local 758, United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers, CIO.

Arthur Wernick, business agent for the union, said the walk-out was staged after the company refused to negotiate for a new contract. The old contract expired June 24.

He said the workers agreed to go back to their jobs Friday morning after company officials promised to meet with the union at 2 p. m. Friday at the plant.

The agreement to return to work tomorrow was reached at a meeting of union members at 9:30 a. m., today at the UE hall, 85½ North Main street, Wernick said.

Ten union pickets remained at plant entrances throughout the morning meeting.

The union did not reveal terms of its contract request. Wernick said more information would be released following tomorrow's meeting.

OFFICE STAFF ON JOB

Company spokesmen said the firm employs about 600 workers and only the office staff was permitted to enter the plant this morning.

The company said the day-shift workers were called off the job yesterday afternoon to attend a meeting.

M. A. Downs, plant superintendent, in a letter to all employes Tuesday, said, "The company has offered to increase wages by 10½ cents per hour, to be applied as follows:

"A. A flat 10½ cents per hour increase for all hourly paid workers.

"B. An increase of piece-work rates to provide opportunity on normal production for increased earnings of 10½ cents per hour for all piece-work, except where rates have been changed in the past year These to be increased not less than 5 cents per hour so as to provide at least 10½ cents per hour increase since the 1947 contract.

"C. An increase of 10½ cents per hour in the hiring rate, which would automatically increase the guaranteed rate on piece-work for most employes by that amount.

"Furthermore the company has offered to provide added vacation benefits for employes having continuous service of six months, but less than one year."

Truman Has No Favorite

PHILADELPHIA — (INS) — Democratic National Chairman J. Howard McGrath asserted today that President Truman has no "personal choice" for a 1948 running mate and flatly ruled himself out of the vice-presidential list.

The Rhode Island senator made his statement as the names of two easterners — Gov. William Preston Lane of Maryland and Robert F. Wagner jr., of New York—were being strongly considered for second place on the Democratic ticket by some administration lieutenants.

He disclosed that the covention program, not yet announced, calls for daily sessions to start at noon and evening sessions probably to begin at 7:30 p. m. (EST).

McGrath said he plans to confer with James Roosevelt, who has joined in calling an anti-Truman caucus for Saturday night, as soon as the Californian arrives in the convention city.

Bird Nests Cause Fire

Birds nests in the county courthouse dome indirectly caused a fire today that drew a huge crowd of spectators to Central park.

Shortly after 1 p. m. welders detailed to the dome to repair the corroded base of the 'Lady of Justice" statue atop the building sounded a fire alarm when sparks set the birds' nests on fire.

The fire department dispatched several companies to the scene.

First reports indicated damage was not great but firemen checked carefully for possible smoldering embers

CAMP MEETING OPENS

Paints Line, Crosses It, Pays Fine

CHILLICOTHE —(INS)— This is another "man bites dog" story. . . .

Charles Lamm, 34, of Gallipolis, was fined $10 and costs on a charge of crossing the yellow line down the center of the highway.

New Attack By Egyptians Ends Truce

Arabs Turn Down Peace Extension

TEL AVIV —(INS)— The Palestine truce came to a premature end today with a slashing Egyptian offensive south of Tel Aviv, and U.N. Mediator Count Folke Bernadotte apparently abandoned hope of an extension.

A statement issued over his signature confirmed that Israel had agreed to a 30-day truce extension but the Arabs rejected it. He indicated he would withdraw the entire United Nations mission from Palestine tomorrow and added:

"I am sorry and disappointed that hostilities are to be resumed.

"Since it appears quite impossible to obtain agreement of the two parties not to resume hostilities I will concentrate on obtaining a cease-fire for Jerusalem and its ultimate demilitarization."

Beer Tuvia, one of the oldest Jewish settlements in Palestine, is 25 miles due south of Tel Aviv.

The Egyptians were based on the settlement of Isdoud, the biblical Asdod which lies athwart the vital Gaza-Tulkarm road which skirts the southern coast of Palestine and then swings inland through the densely-populated central areas.

Official Jewish sources said that the Egyptians, supported by tanks, machine-guns and artillery units, shattered the 27-day Holy Land truce and swept across the plain of Phillistia for Beer Tuvia, five miles to the east.

Locust Din Fades In City's Parks

The 17-year locust concert is about over.

The troublesome insects which emerged from the earth late in May have completed their six weeks above ground and died after leaving another generation of locusts to return in 1965.

The locusts left a trial of damage in fruit and shade trees in the city area Dead branches dot many trees and in some areas where the locusts were most numerous a few small trees have been killed.

The shrill cry of the locusts has echoed through Mansfield wood lots and parks for more than a month as the insects mated and left eggs in tree branches As the eggs hatched and the larvae, or nymphs left the trees, the pierced branches died

The young locusts have been burrowing into the ground to attach themselves to the roots of trees For the next 17 years they will live on sap from the roots.

When 1965 rolls around, they will come to the surface and begin a new life cycle.

Death Succeeds On Second Try

CLEVELAND—(INS)—Lake Erie today had claimed its second victim in as many days in the Cleveland area.

Doris W. Byrne, 23, of suburban Fairview village, was washed from a rock to which she had been pulled to momentary safety by a swimming companion yesterday, and drowned despite efforts by friends and a lifeguard to save her.

Utility Services Slashed

Unemployment Grows In City

BERLIN—(AP)—The Russians' economic strangulation of western Berlin today forced drastic new cuts in the use of electricity and gas.

Unemployment grew among the 2,000,000 Germans in the blockaded American, British and French sectors of the city. The western allies were working out emergency employment schemes to keep idle industrial workers off the streets. An unemployment assistance plan giving workers between 50 and 60 per cent of their normal wages was introduced.

Col. Frank L. Howley, the American commandant, announced that the western powers had decided to maintain the present food rations but to cut coal.

"To meet the emergency, to save 2,000,000 Berliners from starvation as well as economic and social destruction, the United States, British and French military governments are engaged in the greatest air lift in peacetime history," Howley said. Thousands of tons of food, fuel and medicine are being flown from the west to Berlin.

Unfavorable weather slowed the allied airlift this morning. By 10 a. m. only 19 American transport planes had arrived at Tempelhof airfield.

PILOTS COMPLAIN

American fliers heard complaints from two of their comrades of strange radio interference in the air corridor to Berlin.

There were unconfirmed reports that Soviet Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky had gone to Moscow for consultations, presumably regarding answer to the western allies' protest over the Russian blockade.

Howley, in a statement to the Berliners, asked the people to "bear in mind that freedom and democracy always have been purchased only by struggle and suffering." He said he believed they would "measure up to the role which history has given you" to prove that real German democracy is being born in western Berlin.

U. S. officials estimated the public utilities in the western sectors normally use a minimum of 5,000 tons of coal daily. The U. S. Air Force flew in 210 tons yesterday when it began "flying coalman" operations, but these flights were expected to be stepped up.

A British transport pilot reported sighting five Russian Yak fighter planes in the British corridor. One of the Soviet fighters "peeled off and flew within a comparatively close vicinity" of the transport, a British headquarters announced said. The British military government explained it attached "no importance or significance" to the report.

Body Sought With Shovel

CLEVELAND — (AP) — A mechanical shovel dug into a dump today where a 32-year-old Detroit man says he buried a woman last February.

George Andrews, who was brought here yesterday from the Allegheny county workhouse near Pittsburgh, stood by as the digging went forward.

Andrews said he strangled the woman after a quarrel in which she demanded that he marry her. His story, related to authorities in the Pennsylvania workhouse because his "conscience" bothered him, was that he met the woman in a Detroit cafe and then drove her here in a stolen car.

Police so far have been unable to trace the woman whom Andrews said he knew only as "Lorna." Andrews was serving a one-to-eight year term for auto theft when he "confessed."

He told police today he was slightly confused over the exact location of the body because of refuse since piled on the dump. A large crowd watched the digging.

It's Great Day at Hidden Hollow

'Davy Jones' Locker' Spills Contents

"Davy Jones' Locker" spilled its contents of interesting sunken ships and insignia at Hidden Hollow camp today.

The names of great ships that have gone to the bottom were recalled for special mention — ships such as the Titanic, Lusitania, The Maine, The Lexington and the Caledonia

Campers, wearing deep sea diving helmets made of paper sacks with cellophane windows, strutted around the camp quarters, each helmet bearing a sea-like insignia of a special team. These teams include the treasure chests, sea horses, crass, fish and turtles.

Billie Jane Karchner as queen, and Jimmy Mayer, as king, reigned over the day's festivities. They were provided with regal robes with silver fish crowns on their heads. Their reviewing stand was a small ship erected for the occasion.

The camp dining room was decorated with silver stars on the ceiling and fish nets along the walls, colored fish caught in their meshes. Tables carried ships filled with treats for the children.

Music of "Asleep In the Deep" awakened the campers. The day was filled with contests and tournaments such as octopus scramble, mermaid's delight, crocodile cruise, landlubbers luck, marine mischief, frog frolic and feminine fishing.

The day's festivities will end with a Davy Jones campfire around which fish stories will be told by the different teams or crews and seamen's stunts will be performed. The climax will come when Miss Frances Wolf tells the story of "The Queer Ship Uniform."

Is the same food worth more on different days? Does the day of the week affect its value? Of course, not! So why should it cost you more on Monday than on Friday . . . why should the price be higher on Tuesday than on Saturday? A&P sees no reason! We believe that the best way to help you cut your food bills is to keep all prices at the same low level all the time. No wonder thrifty thousands count on A&P to save them money, day-in day-out!

Kinsey Players Open Monday; Senior High Grad In Cast

The Kinsey players will open their eleventh annual season in Mansfield Monday night when they present "Love, Honor and Oh Baby" under the "big top" on West First street between Mulberry and Main streets.

Included in the cast this year is a Mansfield man, Dick Kline, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kline, 161 Buckingham street, who has joined the traveling company. Dick was graduated with this year's senior class at Mansfield Senior high. His father is a fireman.

Another Mansfielder, Eddie Mason, will conduct the country store, follow up of each performance, as he has for several years.

The cast also will include the old favorites, Madge Kinsey Graf and her husband, Harry Graf; their two daughters, Jean Graves and Betty Murdock, and their two sons-in-law, Jack Murdock and "Pep" Graves, Toby Imig, character actor and husband of Esther Imig, who has presided at the box office of the troupe for 35 years and Raleigh Tozer.

Kathryn Kinsey Travis, who had retired from the show business and was living in Fostoria, has returned as piano player. She takes the place of Bernice Toniuttie, who with her husband, Tony, have joined the Black Hills Passion play.

This season marks the fiftieth year the Kinsey family has been on tour. They began their current season in Marion on May 19 and will be in Mansfield for the next four weeks, presenting three bills each week.

Tickets will continue at the popular price of 42 cents, plus tax, according to Harry Graf, manager of the show.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Bender Urges Inquiry By FBI on Wartime Freight Rates

Ohioan Raps Method Used To Fix Fees

Military Officers Face Investigation

WASHINGTON —(INS)— Rep. Bender (R-Ohio) declared today that "strong implications of criminal actions" by former military officers who agreed to wartime freight rates charged against the government will justify an all-out FBI investigation.

The chairman of the House investigating group which is hearing charges of "wartime-gouging" on railway rates, announced he will press for full follow-up action against army and navy transportation officers who were responsible for overcharges estimated at millions of dollars.

Bender said he will call on the FBI for a detailed report on whether any action can be taken against officers who were on loan from railway companies and helped in fixing the overcharge rates.

Bender disclosed that committee investigators already have the names of "at least a dozen" former officers who were on loan during the war from the railroads and since have returned to highly-paid positions.

He said the probe would determine their pre-war salaries, their wartime duties in reaching rate agreements and their post-war positions and pay with the rail companies.

He warned that if any of the officers fail to appear voluntarily for questioning by his expenditures subcommittee, he will issue subpoenas.

Bender anticipated that further names of officers responsible for what he described as "gouging" on freight rates will be obtained in closed session from Thomas F. Proctor, former army transportation expert.

He described the men in the services who determined rates in conference with railway officials as "furloughed railroad employes masquerading as officers of the Army and Navy."

James E. Kilday, special assistant to the attorney general, related that he had recommended FBI investigation of several former officers but that no criminal findings had resulted.

The house called Col. E. B. Gray, chief of the movements division of the Army's transportation office, to initiate today's hearing.

Coins Scatter As Collection Wagon Upsets

Sixty dollars in nickels and pennies is a lot of nickels and pennies, George Caton learned yesterday.

Caton, city parking meter collector, had to pick up all those coins after they spilled out of his collection wagon.

The accident occurred at Third and Main streets. Passersby tried to help, but Caton said he could pick up the money himself.

Finally, the janitor of a nearby building brought out a broom and swept the money into piles, so that Caton was able to scoop the coins into the coin box.

Telephone Manager Retires After 46 Years of Service

WILLARD—W. O. Heabler, 69, employe of the Northern Ohio Telephone company for over 46 years and district manager since 1920, has announced his retirement.

Born and raised in Attica, he first worked on the Attica Hub, a weekly newspaper. Heabler then began his first full-time job driving for Dr. H. G. Blaine in Attica and in his spare time did line work for the telephone company.

Heabler recalls the time when the local manager made house-to-house collections and when the salamonic battery was used in telephones. He began working on the Willard exchange in 1902. At that time the magneto or crank type of phone was used. Next came the change to batteries, and in 1932 he saw the installation of the automatic dial system. Now Willard has 2,050 telephones, compared with 300 in 1902.

In 1903, Heabler went to work for the Northern Ohio Telephone company in New London and in 1920 was moved back to Willard to become the district manager. This district includes Willard, New Washington, Attica, Greenwich and Plymouth. He has lived at 102 South Church street since then.

He will be replaced by John T. Wilson

Historical Train Stops In Willard

WILLARD — A "special" B & O. train carrying the largest collection of historical and modern equipment ever assembled on one train stopped in Willard over the holidays. It is en route from Baltimore to the Chicago Railroad fair.

Thirty-two pieces of equipment made up the exhibit which included such historical items as a full-scale reproduction of the "Tom Thumb" locomotive built in 1829, and the original "Atlantic" locomotive built in 1832.

Also, there were the "Lafayette" built in 1837, the "William Mason" built in 1856, the "Thatcher Perkins" built in 1863, and two modern steam locomotives, a Pacific-type streamlined passenger locomotive No. 5304, and one of the B. & O.'s powerful new Mallet locomotives, No. 7618.

INCLUDES HORSE CAR

The exhibit also included the "Pioneers," a horse-drawn passenger car used on the B & O. when it first opened for service in 1829; a car used by the directors of the B. & O. in 1829, two "Inlay" coaches, an early type of passenger car built in 1832; two barrel cars, dating from 1830 and used for hauling flour; two pot-hopper cars used for carrying coal during the Civil War period and two iron cars used for ammunition hauling during the same era.

The train is scheduled to arrive at the railroad fairgrounds in Chicago on July 6, where some of its equipment will be included in a B. & O. exhibit, while the rest will take part in the fair's pageant of transportation, "Wheels A' Rolling." The fair will open July 20.

Shelby Religious Council To Train Teaching Corps

SHELBY — Stressing a new emphasis on religious education, the Shelby council of Religious Education has been making plans to train a large corps of lay leaders to teach religion in local churches.

Faced with the discontinuance of Bible teaching in the public schools, the council is endeavoring to enlarge the teaching facilities in neighboring churches.

At a session Tuesday, the council appointed Miss Martha Madory, former teacher of Bible in the Shelby school system, on a part-time basis to direct this work. She will also continue as a teacher in the elementary school here, it was announced.

CONFERENCES PLANNED

Projects to be assumed by the Council of Religious Education, a spokesman for the council stated, will include conferences for teachers and leaders in the church schools. The council hopes also that a Library of teaching aids and supplementary materials can be maintained for the assistance of church school teachers and officers.

A daily Vacation Bible school will also be conducted on a city-wide basis next summer.

An immediate project of the council will be the taking of a religious census in Shelby and environs in an effort to determine the religious affiliations of every person in the city and surrounding area. This informaton will then be turned over to the respective churches so that they may be able to contact every boy and girl and parents in the interest of furnishing a complete religious education.

Rev. D. M. Haynes, president of the council, will be in charge of this survey, and has been authorized to employ workers to canvass the city and surrounding area. Anyone who may be interested in helping with this work, is asked to get in touch with Mr. Haynes as soon as possible. Work is expected to start within the next week or ten days, Rev. Haynes stated.

Fine Results In Court Test

ASHLAND—A test case of Ashland's new ordinance on overparking and company responsibility is expected to result from the $5 and costs assessed Wednesday in city police court against the Fritzinger Insurance Co. of Ashland.

The case concerns an alleged over-parking violation against the Fritzinger Co. at a downtown parking meter. The case was heard despite non-appearance of the defendant.

Last year a similar action was brought against the Fritzinger Co. which carried it through all courts of the state. A supreme court ruling in favor of the Fritzinger Co. brought out the fact that Ashland's traffic ordinances did not cover violations by a company. An amendment has been enacted since to clarify the law on such violations.

Witnesses called for the Wednesday hearing included Patrolman Harold Hiner, Police Chief Harry Smith, George Marble, Ashland county clerk of courts, and Harry Dotson, chief clerk for the deputy registrar of motor vehicles of Ashland county.

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

PAGE FOUR MANSFIELD, OHIO, THURSDAY, JULY 8, 1948

With red raspberries priced at 95 cents a quart, the inclination is to ask their price by the dozen.

Those anti-Truman Democrats don't seem to be able to understand even such a simple word as "No."

It is now being discovered that the average garage is too small for the long, wide new model cars—and the same applies to the average income.

Detective Work Requires Secrecy

ANY APPEARANCE of lull in the investigation of the Monday morning bombing in downtown Mansfield should not be mistaken for the same sort of official laxity that has marked the return of commercialized gambling to this city.

During the course of crime investigation there is a period in which secrecy must be maintained by persons entrusted with responsibility of discovering and running down clues that may lead to apprehension of guilty parties.

While the public is entitled to all information that can be given without hampering the work of detectives engaged in checking up on possible suspects in the bombing case, this is an instance in which the "no comment" formula, as prescribed by the FBI, appears justified as a reply to questions which might give unintended information to the person or persons implicated.

What should be definitely understood, however, is that there is to be no let-up in official activity until all possibilities of capturing and punishing the perpetrator—or perpetrators—of this outrage have been exhausted.

And the time will come—if it is not already here—for offering a suitable reward for information that might lead to solution of the mystery that now surrounds the crime of violence which has disturbed this ordinarily peaceful, and preferably law-abiding, city.

Finland Takes Courageous Stand

ELECTIONS in Finland have aroused far less excitement than those in Italy in the spring, but the results are of parallel significance in world affairs. Finland has been considered to be within the Soviet bloc, with Russia anxious to maintain and strengthen the communist role in the government. Italy at election time was outside the Russian bloc, with the communists seeking enough of a hold to move the nation into the Soviet sphere and the United States striving to hold Italy in the West. Both elections resulted in setbacks for the communists.

In Finland there was no barrage of propaganda from the West, such as that in Italy. An issue of communism was created by the Russian pressure for a military foothold, applied in negotiations for the recent friendship pact. It is inevitable that the losses suffered by the Communist party, the Popular Democrats, will be interpreted as evidence of public reaction against concessions made to Russia at the insistence of that party.

The Italian and Finnish elections, viewed together, are important elements in the 1948 world scene. They indicate that peoples who have a free ballot in genuine elections are not inclined to choose the brand of "democracy" fathered in the Kremlin.

Her 'Success' Was Really Failure

POOR LITTLE Carole Landis, who, at the age of 29, deliberately put an end to her life by taking a deadly dose of sleeping tablets which she had become accustomed to using in order to bring the relief of sleep to her troubled mind.

What a pathetic note it was that she wrote to her "Dearest Mommie" when desperation drove her to suicide. "There is no way to avoid it," she said, and there was the final request, "Pray for me," with the simple signature, "Your Baby."

Those two words, "Your Baby," are peculiarly revealing in contemplating the final tragic scene in the life of a girl who, through her physical charm had become a Hollywood favorite and who, for a brief spell, lived the life common to that hectic environment which gives such a distorted idea of the American way of life.

Married four times—first at the age of 15, then again and again and again, with one divorce following another and with the fourth coming up—it is little wonder that the small-town Frances Ridste, whom you knew as Carole Landis, was unprepared to cope with problems which would not have arisen had it not been for the associations and acquired habits of a career for which she seemed unfortunately fitted.

And that anguished appeal: "Pray for me," reveals the innate religious thought that sometimes seems so deeply buried as to have no influence on human behavior, but which invariably comes to the surface at times of great distress.

'Extreme Youth' Stretched a Point

ONE of the poorest ideas thus far suggested in distraught anti-Truman circles is the reported plan by James Roosevelt to urge President Truman to withdraw as a candidate for the Democratic nomination.

An interesting slant on the attitude of age toward youth appears in this connection. Aged 73, Mayor James M. Curley, of Boston, Democratic national committee, dubs the idea as "gross impertinence" and thinks it is due to Jimmie Roosevelt's "extreme youth"—he being only 42 years old, and therefore a mere youngster as viewed from the vantage point of 73.

The Kansas City Star asks: "When the city is trying every possible device to move traffic on our limited streets, just why do we have to put up with double parkers in the rush hours?"—so Mansfield is not alone in being required to endure this nuisance.

The Dewey mustache has again become a controversial subject—but not to the extent, it may be hoped, that this will be made a determining factor in the campaign.

Claude Callan notices: "Most of us are so human we try harder to get even with someone who has injured us than we do to get even with someone who has helped us."

What Some Other People Are Saying

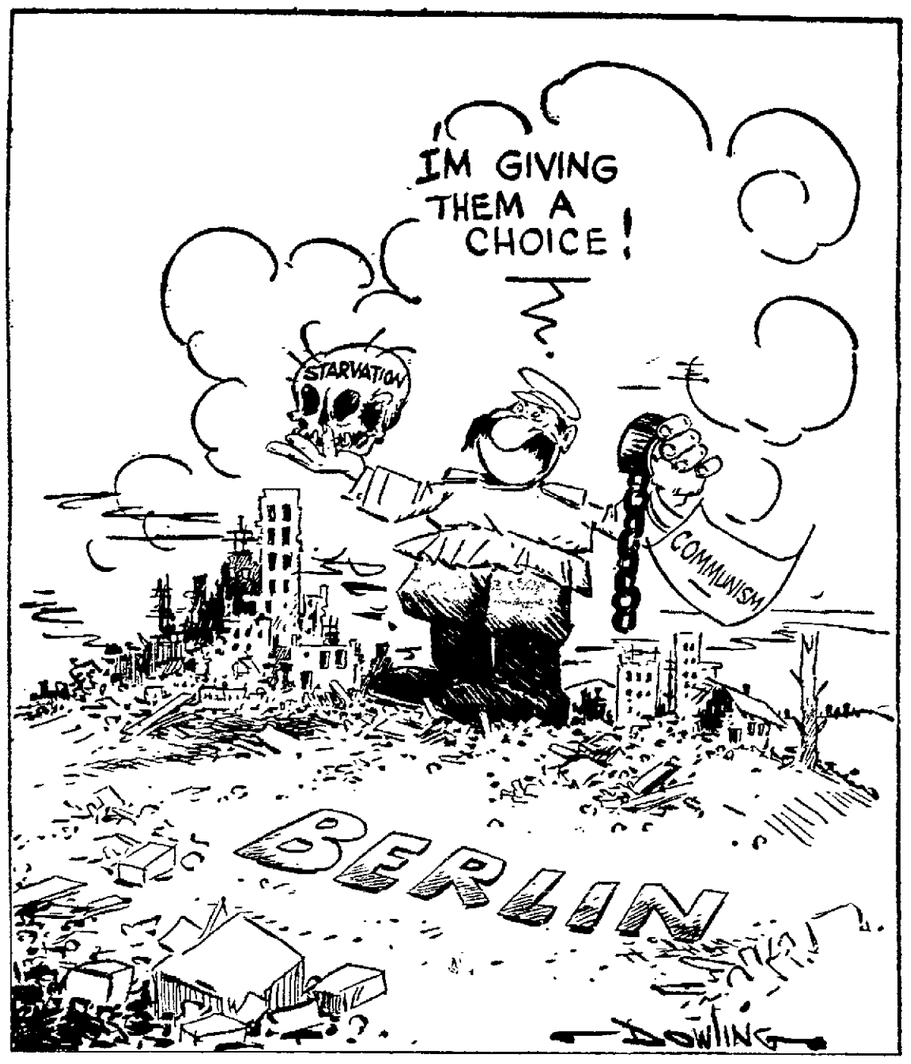
BRIG. GEN. DAVID SHALTIEL, Israeli commander in Jerusalem: "We stand upon the eve of the resumption of hostilities. . . . Our fate will be victory or annihilation. There will be no holds barred if the battle for Jerusalem starts again."

* * *

SEN. CLAUDE PEPPER (D-Fla): "General Eisenhower would accept the nomination if the Democratic party made it plain it did not expect "Ike" to conduct a 'Democratic administration'."

* * *

JOSEPH NACHMAN, manufacturer who opened the Eisenhower for President headquarters in Philadelphia: "We are going to broaden our movement. We will not quit. Our movement is not political. It is not confined to the Democratic party, but it is a national movement."



What's to Be Done In a Case Like That?

'Housecleaning' Difficult

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON—If he's elected president, Thomas E. Dewey says, there'll be the "finest housecleaning Washington ever saw."

This may give the impression that the present swarm of people working for the government would be fired. That hardly seems likely.

You can see why from this:

He could use the broom only in the executive branch of the government.

The people working in the other two branches—judicial and legislative—are practically untouchable by any president.

For example, take the judicial branch—

There are about 275 U. S. judges of all kinds and about 3,000 people working under them, like court clerks.

Almost everyone of the judges now sitting on a bench has been appointed for life by President Truman or some previous president. So they're safe.

And the court employes have almost all been appointed by the judges, and they're beyond the presidential touch.

So Dewey as president would really be able to do only one thing in the judicial branch: appoint new judges as vacancies occurred.

Now take the legislative branch: Congress—without counting the members of the House and the Senators, all of whom are elected by the people — has about 4,000 employes.

They include stenographers, clerks, secretaries, and others.

The members of Congress hire them and the President, unless there are a couple of minor exceptions, has nothing to do with hiring or firing them.

That leaves only the people in the executive branch of the government — various departments and agencies—for Dewey to work on. They number 2,048,000 everywhere: in Washington, the rest of the country and overseas.

Of that total 92 per cent, or 1,884,160, are civil service employes. The rest, 163,840, are noncivil service and have been appointed to jobs.

* * *

Some Really Needed.

IT'S ON that second group—the non-civil service people—that Dewey could do most of his broomwork. But take the civil service workers first.

They are people who have taken competitive examinations for their jobs and are making a career of working for the government.

They include bureau heads, clerks, stenographers, and so on. They can be fired for only two reasons:

1. If they've done something wrong.
2. If their jobs are wiped out.

Dewey could sweep them out the second way: by asking Congress not to vote any more money for their jobs.

By voting little or no money for a certain agency, Congress could reduce the number of its employes or cancel out their jobs altogether.

But, still, this can't be done with too many agencies.

Now take those other 163,840 non-civil service people who have been appointed to their jobs or accepted them without civil service examination.

They are the members of the president's cabinet. Each president appoints his own cabinet which steps out when he retires.

Dewey, naturally, would appoint his own cabinet.

Then he could be expected to get rid of most, if not all, the heads of the independent government agencies — there are less than 100 such agencies—who were appointed by President Truman or President Roosevelt and did not come up through civil service.

Such agencies include the Maritime Commission, the Interstate Commerce Commission, and so on.

Then there'd be the special assistants to the department or agency heads who are not civil service people.

There are other non-civil service employes—like the chauffeur to a cabinet member or special secretaries to department heads—who'd be likely to go. The new department heads would pick their own people.

But even so the government has to be run. Good people willing to work for government salaries are not easy to find.

And Dewey, who has the reputation of being a good administrator, probably would be careful about firing good people doing a good job.

Washington Calling

Marshall Avoids Politics

By MARQUIS CHILDS

THERE is one member of President Truman's administration who will not—but definitely not—attend any of the sessions of the Democratic convention in Philadelphia next week. That is Secretary of State George C. Marshall.

Secretary Marshall has kept just as far away from politics as he possibly could. When he became secretary of state, he said unequivocally that he would under no circumstances consider any elective office. From that point on he has done everything he could to discourage any suggestion of politics in connection with his name.

He has chosen to ignore foolish rumors that he would consider the vice-presidential nomination on a ticket with President Truman. Such rumors have never had the slightest foundation in fact.

In part, this attitude was conditioned by his desire to keep the bipartisan foreign policy out of political pulling and hauling. But it has deeper origins than that. Following a soldier's career, deeply imbued with the code of a soldier, Marshall firmly believes that politics and the military belong in separate compartments.

Again contrary to widely-spread rumor, Marshall has never spoken to his protege and friend, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, about the presidency except in the most casual way. His attitude, however, would naturally have influenced the younger man.

Eisenhower's letter of last January, declining to accept the nomination for President if it were tendered him, expresses certain of Marshall's convictions, although, it is hardly necessary to add, he had nothing to do with the drafting of it.

No Veterans' "Bloc."

THREE YEARS after the end of the greatest war in the nation's history, with 12,000,000 veterans, and there is as yet no sign of a powerful veterans' bloc. That is a remarkable political phenomenon, particularly in view of the record of the past.

After the Civil war, for many years veterans dominated the conventions of the two parties, and a succession of military men occupied the White House beginning with General Grant, whose administration ended in scandal and tragedy.

At the Republican convention it was hard to find any organized veterans' bloc. They were prominent in the group of younger men supporting Harold Stassen. But his followers also included many non-veterans.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, chosen for the No. 1 position on the ticket, has no war record. He elected to continue serving as governor of New York even though he was of military age. While the war was still at its height, Dewey in 1944, at the age of 42, campaigned for the presidency. At that it was freely predicted that he would be ineligible for another try after the end of the war precisely because he would have no service record.

Gov. Earl Warren served in World War I in 1917 and '18. He became a first lieutenant of infantry during the war and served until 1936 as a captain in the officers reserve corps.

The war hero, who might presumably have drawn support if the mood of the country had been different, was Gen. Douglas MacArthur, but the fact is that the so-called MacArthur boom was the most pathetic fizzle of the entire GOP convention.

The general did nothing to prevent his name from being presented, and even lent encouragement to the move. The responsibility, however, is not so much his, since he has not been in this country for 12 years and knows nothing of contemporary politics. Those who pressed the MacArthur "drive" did him a deep disservice.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Tobin Visits Truman, Avoids Promises

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Gruff, likable Dan Tobin, boss of the AFL Teamsters Union, always calls on AFL colleagues during visits to Washington. In New Deal years this was frequent, for Dan was a great friend and close adviser of FDR's.

Last week Tobin's AFL cronies were particularly anxious to see him, and get the lowdown on his conference with President Truman. They knew Dan had been suddenly "summoned" to the White House and they wanted to know whether Truman had been successful in bringing the rebellious teamster back into the Democratic fold.

However, Dan blew in and out of Washington as if he were traveling incognito. He saw no one except Truman.

Reason was that the bigshot labor leader was more than somewhat confused after the President, who desperately needs Tobin's support in his nomination and election drive, turned the ultraviolet charm ray on him during a private "audience."

Reason behind Tobin's White House summons of course was his press statement that AFL President Bill Green wasn't speaking for the Teamsters Union when Green declared labor couldn't support the Republican Dewey-Warren ticket. Also the White House grapevine reported that Tobin was sore at Truman for not consulting with him, as did FDR.

In the background also was the close kinship between Dave Beck, Tobin's top lieutenant on the West Coast, and Dewey's running mate, Earl Warren of California. The AFL Teamsters have always been in the Democratic column, but this year it looks like the West Coast branch, at least, will go Republican, due to the Warren influence.

* * *

Truman Coos to Tobin.

MEANWHILE, here is a report on the Truman-Tobin talk which may interest Dan's AFL colleagues.

Truman didn't discuss political fine points, except to say that he hoped the Teamsters Union would continue to exert its influence for "candidates friendly to labor," as it did during New Deal years.

"I realize I have been remiss in not calling on you and other responsible labor leaders for advice more often," Truman half-way apologized, "but I think you realize I haven't had the time or opportunity to do this, due to the overwhelming obligation of other things, chiefly international affairs.

"It's going to be different from now on, Dan," he continued, "and I want you to know that you are always welcome at the White House as long as I am here.

"Your advice has always been welcomed in the past and I am sure that we will continue to operate on the old standard after November."

Tobin didn't commit himself. But he did agree with Truman on one thing—that the last congress should be blasted for blocking public housing and other liberal measures. Other than that, the Teamsters' boss made no promises.

* * *

Merry-Go-Round.

NEW GOP Chairman, Congressman Hugh D. Scott of Pennsylvania, sounded just a bit like nazi propagandist Joseph Goebbels back during the war years. Declared Scott at a Lincoln day dinner February 12, 1943: "It is time for the Republicans to take over. We are the best stock. We are the best people." . . . Governor Dewey will spend most of his time between now and Labor day in Pawling, N. Y., preparing for his campaign. Republican leaders from all over the country will gather at Pawling to confer with him . . . Indiana delegates are still a bit irked because their favorite son, House Majority Leader Charlie Halleck, missed out on the vice-presidential nomination. Halleck assured them at a secret caucus that he had Dewey's promise for the job if he could deliver Indiana's votes. Dewey men say otherwise . . . A strong move is under way to name statesmanlike Senator Joe O'Mahoney of Wyoming as Truman's running mate in Philadelphia. O'Mahoney could do more to offset Governor Warren's popularity in the west than Governor Mon Wallgren of Washington, though the old Al Smith story lurks in the background . . . If fighting in the Holy Land is resumed, the Arab armies are in for a big surprise. The new state of Israel now has a trained air force, tanks and armored cars.

Under the Dome.

MADDEST man in the Republican party today is Congressman Charles Halleck of Indiana. Halleck considered himself a leading candidate for vice president on the Republican ticket—until Governor Dewey passed him by. What Halleck is so mad about is the way Dewey outsmarted him. Halleck admits that Dewey never promised him the vice president's job but some of Dewey's hangers-on did. Halleck thought he was a grown-up politician until now . . . Governor Dewey will begin his first nation-wide tour of the presidential campaign on September 12. He will rest (as much as possible) in New York state until then . . . The "boys in the backroom" charting President Truman's renomination drive in Philadelphia will be Democratic Chairman J. Howard McGrath, Federal Security Administrator Oscar Ewing, and Undersecretary of Interior Oscar Chapman.

Speeches Will Bait GOP

By KENNETH L. DIXON

WASHINGTON — Currently there seems to be some considerable discussion among the Democrats as to whether they will pick President Harry Truman as party standard-bearer at the national convention next week.

However, there is no question but that the Democratic leaders plan to pick one of the President's favorite pastimes to keynote their convention—namely, baiting the Republican Congress.

Convention orators and their ghosts have been busy for some time now, poking through old congressional records and polishing their discoveries into what they hope will become devastating campaign wisecracks.

Although advance copies of the forthcoming convention prose have not been passed around yet, now and then a speech-maker or his spook can be persuaded to drop a hint or two about the fancy forensics being prepared for the edification of the Democratic delegates.

And to a large extent it concentrates, directly or indirectly, on the record of the 80th Congress as contrasted to Republican campaign promises of two years ago.

Here are a few examples:

Housing—Although partial housing legislation was passed by Congress, even its most ardent advocates admitted it was far from being a cure-all for the continuing crisis in that field. No broadscale housing program ever got the lawmakers' nod.

Just who was chiefly at fault in the housing legislative fiasco may be a debatable point—and certainly it will be a much-debated point during the rest of the summer and the fall.

But the Democratic leaders at Philadelphia intend to confine themselves to pointing out that the Republicans controlled the 80th Congress, and that therefore had they really wanted to do something about the housing mess it would have been done.

Fully aware of the national anger over the housing problem, the Democrats will hammer at the point again and again, not only in convention oratory but also in signs, posters, parades, slogans and catch-phrases.

Prices — Some really fancy forensic footwork is going to show up along the general subject of inflation and the alleged Republican responsibility for same.

Actually, the references to high prices will hinge largely upon the repeated congressional refusals to consider any of the presidential requests for stand-by controls to combat inflation.

* * *

Mustn't Overdo It.

HOWEVER—And here's where the footwork comes in—the boys plan to carefully skirt the subject of bringing back anything like the ghost of the O.P.A., figuring that memory still rankles more than slightly in some circles.

As a result, the speech-making will consist mostly of diagnosing the nation's dollar ailments, rather than prescribing a cure.

And in reference both to housing and to inflation, the Democratic orators will hark back to Republican campaign promises of 1946 which—as is customary with politicians in such cases—were sometimes both wild and specific.

More in an effort to arouse ridicule than wrath, there will be countless convention references to such Republican campaign promises as the somewhat rash ones made about cutting the national budget.

This will not be gone into too deeply, since it might lead to Republican reminders that the bipartisan foreign program and the Democratic administration were two chief roadblocks to their budget-cutting campaign.

However it will be cited repeatedly as an alleged example of the difference between Republican promises and performance.

Also, in that general field, mention will be made of the congressional failure to pass legislation involving federal aid to education, a medical aid program, universal military training and several other much-discussed measures.

Since some of the convention spell-binders themselves were members of the 80th Congress they may not echo the President's charge about it being the worst in history (or almost), but by the time they're through they won't leave much doubt as to what they think about the Republicans who controlled it!

Dave Boone Says:

READING all the details of that trip and speech in the Ozarks, I sort of got the idea Harry Truman was almost stepping aside for Simon Bolivar in the approaching Philadelphia shindig.

* * *

Harry hasn't approved of anybody so much as Bolivar in the last year or two.

* * *

It seems to me that Ike Eisenhower used up a lot of words to say "No." If he takes as many strokes on the links as he does off them he must run up a terrible score.

* * *

"This implies no intention of keeping silent on any issue of importance to the country," said the General, winding up his statement that he could not accept the nomination. If Yale beats Columbia or he can't get rid of that golf slice he will talk plenty.

For Self Protection.

The Better Business Bureau's warning against exorbitant charges for financing automobiles is timely.

No car purchaser can afford to be in such a hurry that he doesn't get an itemized statement of what he owes and what it will cost him in carrying charges.

But above all, find out exactly what's it's going to cost before signing on the dotted line.

Farmer's Diary

Elements of Success

By CALVIN A. BYERS

THE neighbor across the creek is siding his barn. The new lumber gleams yellow and clean against the green rounded hill beyond his buildings.

All during last fall I heard his axe swinging with measured beat in the timber. He pulled the logs out with his team when the snow was on, and dragged a big pile of them to the sawmill set up at the edge of a neighbor's woods. Here the community-owned tractor powered the mill and the whole neighborhood worked occasionally at logging.

The trees that were selected for cutting were those that would deteriorate in value, if left stand. They were cured in the log, I believe, then planed at the nearest mill, so the finished job is neat, tight and smooth.

Such a wise use of timber for repairing and building new sheds and houses is regular farm practice. This young man and his good wife are rearing a fine family, they have remodeled their place — bought eight years or so ago — and added electricity, and all modern conveniences. They have a new deep-freeze cabinet now, which makes food easier to care for.

They co-operate. Both are capable, busy, highly esteemed in the community. His tractor can be heard in the field, sometimes, at 10 o'clock at night. Her washing is on the line early every Monday. Both are present at most community social gatherings.

The whole atmosphere of their premises is one of contentment and business. There are children at play — their own and usually someone else's — upon the lawn. There's a herd of black and white dairy cattle upon their high greenly rounded hill. There's a herd of hogs in the pens and a new hog house going up. There's prosperity, security, peace and contentment — based upon hard work, perseverance and faith.

Success, on a farm, or anywhere else for that matter, doesn't often come by chance. Those who envy the successful farmer should not forget that each farmer plans his own work, engineers his own success or failure.

Arthur Simpsons on Trip Through East and Canada

WHEN Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Simpson return from their wedding trip to Canada and eastern states, they will reside at 195½ West First street after July 11. They were married in Galion, Sunday afternoon, June 27, at 3 o'clock in First Methodist church, in a double ring ceremony. Rev. Norman R. Somerville officiated.

The bride is the former Murial Swartz, daughter of the late Mr and Mrs. Willis O. Swartz of Galion, and Mr. Simpson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Simpson of 144 Hedges street.

All white flowers were used in the two beauty baskets and an arrangement on the altar table, with palms and lighted tapers in branched candelabra, to provide the setting.

Miss Dorothy Plack presided at the organ. Mrs. Robert Anthony of Mansfield, was the vocalist. During the ceremony, and while the couple received communion, the wedding hymn was played softly. The traditional wedding marches were played for processional and recessional.

Wearing a gown of white marquisette over taffeta, the bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Joseph Korb of Galion. Her gown was styled with high neckline, closed with small lace-edge Dutch collar. Her full bishop sleeves were caught at the wrists by a lace-edged cuff. The bodice was trimmed with self-covered buttons, and the full skirt fell into a fan train. A three-tiered veil, worn virgin style, was held to her hair by pearlized blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white delphinium, baby gladioli and baby's breath, centered with an all white orchid with the shower of satin ribbons holding delphinium blossoms. Her jewelry was her mother's diamond ring, and she carried the handdrawn linen wedding handkerchief which had been carried by the bridegroom's mother.

Mrs. Hobart Lime of Mansfield, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and Mrs. Robert Fabian, a niece, was bridesmaid. They wore gowns of marquisette over taffeta, made with deep ruffles at the neck, tiny puffed sleeves and full skirts with full double peplums at the waistline. Tiny bows were caught in the ruffles

Mrs. Lime wore pale green with a darker green floral headpiece, and carried an arm bouquet of yellow roses, baby's breath, blue larkspur and yellow and white carnations, showered with contrasting wide yellow streamers, and Mrs. Fabian was in pastel pink, with a fuchsia headpiece. Shower ribbons in fuchsia were attached to her bouquet of red roses, blue larkspur carnations and baby's breath. Both wore wrist-length white lace mitts.

William Allen of Mansfield was best man and Charles Essick of Mansfield and Robert Fabian of Galion, lighted the candles and seated the guests.

The bridal party received informally at the church, and later attended a reception for 50 guests in the garden at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lime, 501 Townview Circle, with Mrs. Joseph Korb of Galion, eldest sister of the bride, and Mrs. Simpson, the bridegroom's mother, receiving. The refreshment table was centered with a bride's cake decorated with white roses and silver leaves. Flowers and tapers also were used on the table.

Mrs. Charles Essick and Mrs. Lydia Thornberry presided, and the guest book was in charge of Mrs Albert Bair. Recordings of organ music were played during the reception.

For traveling, the new Mrs. Simpson changed to a white suit with white accessories and wore her orchid from her bridal bouquet.

For several years, the bride has been hostess at the Mansfield-Leland Coffee Shop. She attended theGalion schools.

Mr. Simpson is associated with the Siegenthaler Shoe store. He was graduated from Mansfield High school, and is a World War II veteran of the Army Air Forces.

New Look Shown In Naming Children These Days

NEW YORK CITY'S Health Department has dug into its files and come up with some fascinating facts.

The most popular names this year for the city's children, said the department, are as follows:

Girls—Barbara, Linda Patricia, Mary, Susan, Joan Carol, Diane, Judith and Margaret Boys — Robert, John, James, Michael, William, Richard, Joseph, Thomas, Stephen and David.

The department also produced the most popular names of 50 years ago and 20 years ago. It proved conclusively that there are fashions in first names as definite as there are fashions in clothes. Fashions in Girls' names show a trend toward the fancy.

At the end of the Gay Nineties, fond city parents were conservatively naming their daughters Mary, Catherine, Margaret, Annie, Rose, Marie, Esther, Sarah, Frances and Ida (Dora and Helen also ran). In the middle of the Glorious Experiment, 30 years later, girls' names were still on the simple side, but fell gently on the ear. Mary, Marie, Annie (or Anne), Margaret, Catherine, Gloria, Helen, Teresa, Jean and Barbara

But not so with the boys A half century ago it was John, William, Charles, George, Joseph, Edward, James, Louis, Francis and Samuel Most of them were still in the running three decades later John, William, Joseph, James, Richard, Edward, Robert, Thomas, George and Louis

A batch of New York City birth certificates doesn't necessarily show a nation-wide trend. But as far as the current lists of the top ten are concerned, I think they do There's been a revolution in the troublesome business of naming one's offspring

In the pre-historic days before talking movies and radio most families used a pretty simple procedure in naming their youngster The first man-child usually was Junior, the first girl was named after her mother The only trouble with the system was that the beneficiaries of the names usually being called "Junior," "Baby Mary," or "Little John" all their lives to distinguish them from their namesakes

Girls nowadays ar being tagged with names that sound pretty to parents (and are, incidentally, the given-or-taken-name of movie stars) Thus, even if Diane sounds pretty grim with a mandatory last name, chances are she'll acquire a new one in 20 years—attached to a wedding ring.

A few years back it seemed that everyone was naming their boys either Peter or Michael That phase has passed And so, thank heavens, has the cute vogue of calling each chubby little future president, "Butch"

Three Authors Combine Efforts To Write 'We Learn to Read'

It took three people to write the first book I'm going to tell you about this week, three people to write a little thin easy book for first graders. Gerald Yoakam, Kathleen Hester and Louise Abney worked together to write WE LEARN TO READ and only one person is needed to read it Nancy, Jack, Baby, Mother, Father Boots and Tippy are in the book. They do funny things to make you laugh as you read the book

Georges Duplaix has written a funny book, too, for those who can read a little more than first graders BIG BROWNBEAR was sent by his wife to get a fish for dinner. "Don't go near the old dead tree with the bee hive in it. Remember what the bees did to you last time" Just like Peter Rabbit, the big brown bear went straight to the one place he had been told not to go He put in his paw for a scoop of honey You should have seen what happened! The bees stung that bear, and stung that bear until his nose was swollen and swollen and more swollen. There's more to the story but you can discover that by yourself.

TRAINS AT WORK by Mary Elting is a thin book packjammed full of the most fascinating material about trains. Even if you don't like trains and aren't interested in them, you pick up the book, look at a picture, read what it says, turn the page, the next and so forth. If you are a train enthusiast this is just your book. It tells about switches, signals, different kinds of engines, cars etc It tells how the yardmen sort out cars going different places and answers a lot of questions for you.

Suppose your mother and father were going on a vacation to spend a whole summer living with Indians. Wouldn't you want to go? Jon and Judy did! Definitely! They managed to be taken along on the most wonderful summer a boy and girl could dream about To tell the story or too much of what happened would spoil it — enough to say that they had experiences nine out of ten children dream about all their lives. Some of the things that happened to them, nice things, had never happened to any white children before This SUMMER AT YELLOW SINGERS is a very special book.

MAKE-IT-YOURSELF BOOK OF HANDICRAFTS by Henry Walsh is intended to help you fill in some of the summer hours left empty by the closing of school. It is intended for beginners, though it contains some suggestions and plans for more experienced workers The introduction will tell you what handicrafts are, some general suggestions and advice about picking a craft There are separate sections on metalwork, leatherwork, pottery, basketry weaving, blockprinting and dyeing carpentry and design and decoration In each section there are suggestions about tools and materials, along with directions This is particularly recommended for Scouts and other campers

Being a baseball fan myself I'm always tempted to buy every baseball story that comes along. When one is announced as "the greatest baseball story in years," and "One you can't afford to miss" I don't quite believe it but I buy it. So, here is THREE-TWO PITCH by Wilfred McCormick It is a Bronc Burnett story, the first of a series. Sometimes series don't develop. I hope this one does. I liked Bronc and I want to read more about him. I think you will, too, after you read about one year in Bronc's baseball career He switched positions and ideas, but always loved baseball Reading the book, you can feel the heat and the dust and almost see the umpire Probably you can afford to miss it but you don't have to and you'd better not.

Now I lay me down ... to sleep ... I pray Thee, Lord, ... my soul to keep ... If I should die ... before I wake ... I pray Thee, Lord, ... my soul to take ... If I should live ... far other days ... I pray Thee, Lord, ... to guide my ways. Amen

Optimists Back City Play Center

The Mansfield Optimists club went on record yesterday as endorsing a city recreational center

Club members acted after hearing Stanley W Kamen, Mansfield recreational director, describe problems facing his department He spoke at a luncheon meeting in the Mansfield-Leland

"Mansfield is definitely interested in recreational activities, but we haven't the facilities to meet the demand and without them the activity interest may die." Kamen warned.

"Some of the city's activities are a success, being properly outlined and supervised, but others lack the facilities that might permit Mansfield area boys from some day playing baseball in the major leagues," he added

The Optimist club members agreed whole-heartedly with Kamen's plan for a city recreational center and hope that other organizations will help them support the program.

"We need the sincere cooperation of all organizations interested and concerned if we are to make the recreation program a living thing," Kamen said

Rev. John G Gensel, Optimist club vice-president, presided and George Kyle served as program chairman.

'Be Prepared For Anything'

Red Cross Told 'Keep Fences Mended'

An admonition to be prepared for any emergency or disaster was brought back from the national Red Cross convention at San Francisco by Mrs Bess Augsburger, executive secretary.

While national officials of the Red Cross didn't come right out and say "be prepared for anything" they suggested that local chapters keep their "disaster fences well mended," Mrs Augsburger said today. She returned to work Tuesday morning

Because the Richland county chapter has a well-planned setup and is vitally interested in the disaster preparedness angle of Red Cross work, Mrs. Augsburger attended one of the special disaster workshops.

Emphasis was given to the "be prepared" caution by Gen Mark Clark, dinner speaker who suggested that if he could come right out and talk he would be accused of war-mongering Mrs Augsburger said

Gen Clark also said that he had nothing but good to say about the Red Cross during the war Most of the stripes he said were astounded

MRS. BESS AUGSBURGER

AID FLOOD VICTIMS

In discussing the disaster program Red Cross officials said that over the fiscal year ended July 1, the national Red Cross had spent $12,000,000 It expects to spend $4,000,000 in rehabilitation work for flood victims in Washington, Oregon and Wyoming, many of whom were migrants living in government barracks.

Officials suggested, too, a cooperating program on disaster between adjacent chapters and stressed the fact that no community is immune to sudden emergencies.

Mrs Augsburger also attended the special blood donor sessions Blood donor programs are now established in seven centers as a part of the expanded project which the National Red Cross hopes to spread net-like over the entire country. The goal is 40 big centers. Richland county's blood donor program is in the making.

JUNIOR WORK OUTLINED

Of the million education boxes sent to European children during the past year, 800 were filled by Richland county Junior Red Cross members. Miss Eskridge stressed in particular the gratitude of the overseas children for those boxes, Mrs. Augsburger said.

Among resolutions approved by convention members was one which will permit local chapters to accept money from the civic funds of industrial concerns if approved by the national board of governors. However, that does not mean that the Red Cross can participate in a general civic fund-raising campaign.

Land Owners File Appeals In Road Case

Four appeals from the compensation and damages allowed by the county commissioners for land taken in the relocation of State Route 13, around Mansfield airport, were filed yesterday in probate court.

Probate Judge Stuart H. Cramer set Monday at 9:30 a. m. for a preliminary hearing of the cases. Within 20 days after that date, the cases will be heard together by a probate jury which will decide the amount to be paid in compensation for land taken.

Purpose of Monday's hearing will be to determine if appeal bonds are sufficient, if the notices of appeal are proper and what questions are to be appealed.

Assistant Prosecutor Robert L. Ross said the first award by the commissioners, now being appealed, was for the actual land taken. After the road is completed claims will be awarded for damages to the remaining land.

APPELLANTS LISTS

Those who appealed and the amounts they seek includes:

Arthur and Nellie Krueger, who ask $500 for two acres of land and $6,000 damages. They were allowed $2,451.

Roy H. Ferguson claims $1,167 for land taken and $3,000 for damages to premises. He was allowed $1,200.

Raymond and Martha Estep and James A. Frey, asks $1,500 for three acres, and $2,000 damages. They were allowed $1,602.

Fred C. and George M. Brubach, ask $2,500 for five acres, and $5,000 damages. They were allowed $3,584.

Another landowner, John G. Hoff, although he filed an appeal bond, did not appeal the compensation allowed for his property to be used for the highway. He was allowed $1,400. Ross said Hoff indicated he would file an appeal on damages later.

Weak, Watery Blood Blamed for Making Men and Women Look and Feel Older

THAN THEIR YEARS

How do you feel at the end of a day? Is that old time pep and drive lacking? Have you checked-up on your blood strength lately? Thousands now regaining glowing good looks and vitality through the release of vibrant energy to every muscle, fibre, cell.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a general run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloat and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health. —Adv.

Hobo Haven Finally Closes— Police Find It Under Noses

NEW ORLEANS —(AP)— Police hastily organized a raid on a hobo jungle here—when they discovered it sprawled beneath the First precinct police station.

To their amazement, they found a maze of passageways honeycombed underneath the old building, with electricity, water and steam heat conduits tapped for transient tramps.

The only hobo captured was a fellow found reclining on a mattress and reading a magazine under a brilliant light.

On a promise of immunity, he volunteered:

That the place was known as "Hotel de Bastille."

It had been in existence for months, perhaps years.

"Guests" entered the haven nightly with amazing simplicity.

It is accessible from 10 to 12 vents in the sides of the structure. Bushes shield the entranceways.

Desk Sgt. Edward Fallen climbed through the many tunnels, with the hobo as guide and patrolmen at his heels.

Old clothing, liquor bottles and other evidences of tramp lodgings were found.

Police Capt. Arthur Marullo, who was unable to squeeze his ample bulk through some of the narrow tunnels, said it was "easily possible" for underworld elements to have found sanctuary there for years.

Their unidentified guide even pointed out the "royal suite" containing a neatly dusted davenport, a bed lamp, lights strung to the police station wiring, and a supply of food.

FARE HIKE DELAYED

EAST LIVERPOOL —(AP)— Council has delayed action on passing a law to provide a fare increase for the Valley Motor Transit company. This was the seventh day of a "truce" on a bus strike but councilmen promise to act before it expires July 13.

Ex-Convict Has Gay Time on Gifts

Squanders Money Wheedled on Radio

NEW YORK — (CP) — Atty. Gen. Nathaniel Goldstein asked the county court Wednesday to save the last $2,631 of the $13,500 Christmas present John A. Walker, an ex-convict, and his wife, Edna, weedled out of a softhearted radio audience for their "destitute" children last December Goldstein alleged that the parents spent $9,000 of the money and that the father now faces a new check forging charge in connection with a stock selling scheme stretching from New York to Hollywood

He asked that the remaining $2,631 of the money donated by the radio audience be placed in a trust fund for Walkers' 10-year-old son, John, one of the three children for whom the money was donated.

Shortly before Christmas, Walker allegedly approached A. L. Alexander who conducts a radio show called "The Mediation Board." Walker said his family was down to its last 30 cents and asked if his children should suffer because he once wrote a "rubber check to cover a gambling debt?"

Walker and his wife were permitted to air their troubles on the radio program and tell of their children facing a penniless Christmas

The money began rolling in. The children got more than 2,000 Christmas gifts by mail. According to affidavits in the case, half of the money was to be placed in accounts in the children's and mother's name and the other $6,750 in the parents' name

What the Walkers didn't tell the radio audience was that they owned a farm in Connecticut. Walker later admitted this to Alexander and told him that he was going to use $5,000 to pay off the mortgage and buy some stock. Goldstein said there was no evidence of livestock bought with any of the money.

Instead the Walkers bought a new car and went to Florida where they spent most of the money, Goldstein claimed.

In the meantime, Walker was charged with forging the endorsement on a $331 check given him for investment. He allegedly cashed the check 15 days after making his radio plea for help.

Congress a Bit Late With News About Tactics of Store Unions

NEW YORK—As though it were news after so many years, we were told in a congressional dispatch a few days ago that some of the communist-controlled unions of retail clerks had been driving customers out of big stores by ignoring and abusing them. This is old union practice, inherent in that clause of the Roosevelt unionism which purports to protect the virtuous toiler from capricious and spiteful dismissal by the boss.

The impudence, indeed truculence, thus evoked is present in almost all the mass-union shops of the CIO. It is well known in the restaurant trade and the public is becoming aware of it in a definite flippancy in the attitude of railroad workers on the passenger trains.

In Italy, the pugnacity of the railroad fellows, rising sometimes to a flat refusal to move trains unless army officers who were aboard got off, was a communist trick which, more than any other affront, prepared the people for Mussolini. The proud boast of fascism that the duce made the trains run on time meant only that his goons bent back the ears of a few obstreperous engineers and conductors.

Although such sabotage is old practice it is unheard of by many millions of American citizens, including practically all of those who joined up for the war and the whole batch of those who are now 25 years old or less. It includes also, of course, that enormous element of all classifications whose resistance to information never can be conquered.

Thus an old condition which all Americans should understand is unknown to a large element of the population.

There are two main motives for this kind of sabotage. The old, familiar native American motive is extortion and all unioneers of the American Federation of Labor hold it to be a holy privilege derived from the robber barons and other ancient gods of their temple.

The communist motive is to demoralize organization in a department store or factory, impoverish management and thus necessitate dismissals which then become a grievance for a strike and further disorders, preferably violent.

The discipline of the unions, imposed on millions of American citizens by Roosevelt, was foreseen and calculated. The guilt of William Green, John L. Lewis, Phil Murray, Frances Perkins, the whilom housemother of the New Deal, and Roosevelt himself is unmitigated. They all had a purpose which was roughly profit and power, except la Perkins, who never appeared to know exactly what she was up to.

Today the decent American clerk in a store where a communist union has the contract cannot be fired for, as it were, spitting in the customer's eye.

But the union certainly can have him fired for failure to do so. If the union finds him guilty of ingratiating himself with the boss or the customers he can be driven out of the union by unbearable persecution.

★

If the Union certifies him to the boss for dismissal for "un-union-like conduct" and the boss thinks he might stand by the worker, the store's stockholders and the bank will change his mind as they contemplate endless hearings before the boards, disruption of the office work to produce old records, and finally, picket lines and the silent weapon, as stealthy as the icepick or the kinfe, the boycott of the organized "minority groups."

Heart Attack Fatal To J. A. Swisher

Rural Leader Dies In Franklin Township

James A. Swisher, 72, former Richland county commissioner, and a life-long resident of Franklin township, died Wednesday afternoon at his home following a heart attack.

Mr. Swisher was born in Franklin township June 2, 1876. He was a member of the Pleasant Valley Baptist church, and was affiliated with Venus lodge, No. 152, F. and A. M., Loyal Order of Moose, and Order of Owls.

Active in all Richland county farm movements and rural activities, Mr. Swisher was a former chairman of the Richland County Conservation committee, having helped in its organization. He was a member of the Shenandoah Conservation club, past master of the Ganges Grange, and a trustee of Franklin township. He was also a director of the Richland Equity Mutual Insurance company.

Mr. Swisher was a county commissioner from 1914 to 1919.

Surviving are his wife, Sarah; two sons, Jennings J. and Charles T. Swisher; four grandchildren and one great-grandchild; three brothers, William James and Perry Swisher, all of Mansfield.

The body is at the Wappner funeral home, where friends may call and where services will be held Saturday at 3 p. m. in charge of Dr. W. M. Taylor, pastor of the Park Avenue Baptist church. Burial will be in the Franklin cemetery.

State to Eye Child Home

Richland County's Children's Home will be inspected within three weeks by state welfare department officials, John W. Selby, chairman of the county commissioners, said today.

A scheduled tour of the home by state officials yesterday was postponed due to other commitments, Selby said.

A conference on the Child Welfare board's recommendation that the home be moved to the country was held, however, with Judge Henry J. Robison, chief of the division of social administration for the state, and John R. Ferguson, head of the state's children's services.

The meeting in the commissioners' office was attended by the officials, commissioners and members of the welfare board.

Olivesburg Group Hopes For Big Crowd

Festival Helps Remodel Church

By NITA BRANSON

When women of the Olivesburg Methodist church hold their 50th lawn festival Saturday night, they will have a special reason for wanting a record crowd.

Members have just completed redecorating their church at a cost of more than $1,800. Much of the amount already has been donated or earned. But there is still several hundred dollars due on the cost of the new carpet which totaled $1,160.

"We've done a little of everything to earn the money to pay for the redecorating," said Mrs. Russell Wolfe, president of the Women's Society of Christian Service. "We've had socials and suppers and cooked for all the fox hunts and auction sales in the community but we're still short of our goal. That's why we're hoping for even more than the 1,500 who attended the lawn fete last year."

Yesterday afternoon when members of the society met with Mrs. Ray Houston at Epworth for their final meeting before the festival, they said they had cleaned 50 chickens for sandwiches and expected to make 80 gallons of ice cream tonight. Between now and Saturday women of the church and village will bake 48 cakes and 38 pies for the festival. In addition they'll serve "sloppy jo" sandwiches for anyone who doesn't like chicken.

Although lawn fetes at the Olivesburg church have been held for a half century, it's only during the past 20 years that the church has held them in cooperation with the cemetery association.

SHARE PROCEEDS

"As in the past, we'll divide the profits with the association," Mrs. Wolfe said.

Officers of the cemetery association who help plan the annual event are: V. B. Kent, president; Harry Dove, vice president; Lee C. Henry, secretary; Roland Rebman, treasurer, and Russell Wolfe, trustee.

The church has been done over with two-toned green walls and ceilings and rose carpet in the aisles and chancel. In the basement the young adult Fellowship group has painted the ceilings yellow and the walls white and water-proofed the entire wall area. All floors have been revarnished.

Besides the money earned by the WSCS, cash gifts have been given by different church members, the Sunday school classes and other church groups.

Mrs. Clara Wolfe, who has lived in the community all her life, is an old hand at festival preparation.

"I remember when the church cornerstone was laid in December, 1886," she recalled. "We've had these lawn fetes almost since the beginning of the church. I've helped in them all and I'll do my share in this one."

The church now is without a pastor. Rev. Floyd Eckert, former pastor of the Olivesburg, Franklin and Pavonia charges, was transferred to Fredericktown during the recent Northeast Ohio conference at Lakeside.

"But we expect to have a young student fill the pulpit until a regular pastor can be assigned," Mrs. Wolfe said.

When the new permanent pastor arrives, he'll find a parish of men and women who know how to work for what they want and a church handsomely decorated and in fine condition, in spite of its more than a half century of service.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY—

Two public officials share a birthday today. They are Paul L. Kelley, city auditor, and Norman L. Wolfe, county auditor.

Kelley is a native Mansfielder who has held his present position for the past 24 years. His is the longest record for holding public office in the history of Mansfield or Richland county. He is a member of the American Legion, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the

WOLFE KELLEY

Masonic order, and the Moose lodge. Sports are his chief outside interest. He especially enjoys baseball, golf, and football. Kelley is married and lives at 521 Park avenue west.

Wolfe also is a native of Mansfield. He has been county auditor since 1935. Before that he served two terms as county recorder. He belongs to the Hermit club, the University club, of which he is a past-president, the Elks lodge, and is a member of the First Presbyterian church. Married and the father of two children, he lives at 662 Park avenue west.

Also celebrating a birthday today is John Baesel, freight agent for the Baltimore and Ohio railroad. Baesel, who lives at 69 Reba avenue, moved here from Cambridge a little over a year ago. He had held a similar position with the railroad in Cambridge for 13 years. He has been an employe of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad for 39 years. Baesel is a member of the Masonic order and the Rotary club in Cambridge.

SEE HOW IT WORKS

About 35 boys of the YMCA summer fun club took a trip through the Richland county courthouse yesterday to see how county government works. The boys were taken to the courthouse by Ralph Chapman, associate general secretary, and James Kibler, an instructor. One of the stops they made was in the office of the county commissioners where the commissioners were introduced to the boys. Acting as guide was County Auditor Norman L. Wolfe.

★

GIRLS FILE EARLY—

A few early birds jumped the gun and registered yesterday for the 10 days of YWCA daytime camp which begins Monday. The girls were going to be out of town today, which is the official registration time, and they wanted to be sure they were signed up. This morning others began to register, and by 9:30 a. m. a steady stream of girls was filing in to the registration desk.

LIGHTS STREAK SKY—

The carnivals are criss-crossing Mansfield's night sky with light. Big searchlights, like the kind the Army uses to spot planes in the air, flashed across the skies from the north last week when the World of Pleasure shows appeared at the fairground. This week the Royal Crown Shows at the Blue Goose lot are streaking the heavens with light from the east. The huge arc lights are mounted on trucks so they can revolve easily.

DOUBLE DUTY—

Walls of the YWCA resounded with the music of a seven-piece "orchestra" last night. The junior high boys, who make up the band, regularly practice next door to the "Y" but last night they came over to furnish the music for the weekly Junior High frolic while they practiced. The boys played lustily, if a little imperfectly, but they weren't in the least embarrassed. And the teenagers didn't mind when the band started over to correct its error. The band which calls itself the "Moodmakers," is directed by John Damron, son of Dr. and Mrs. C. R. Damron of 30 South Mulberry street.

Record Amount Sought

Requests Up $7,222 Over '48

Richland county's 1949 budget calls for a record $1,212,000 to operate county departments during the year.

The requests total $7,222 more than was appropriated for county operations this year.

County Auditor Norman L. Wolfe, who released the budget figures today, said a public hearing on the requests will be held next Monday at 1:30 p. m., in the county commissioners' office.

Wolfe said the increase is due in part to 25 per cent salary increases for elected officials, authorized by the state legislature. Only officials starting new terms in January will get the increases.

LEVY ADDED

Wolfe said county taxes will carry a levy of .75 of a mill — the first time in 10 years that the Richland county has made a levy for debt purposes.

The levy is for the retirement of TB bonds to build the new sanatorium. The addition will bring the county tax levy to 3.25 mills. The old rate was 2.5 mills. Wolfe explained that .75 of a mill amounts to 75 cents on $1,000 property valuation.

The budget for the general totals $619,732, compared to the 1948 appropriation of $620,778. The county's operating expenses come out of the general fund.

Of the other funds making up the total budget the TB operating fund calls for expenditure in 1949 of $75,000, compared to an appropriation of $70,000 for 1948.

The 1949 budget figure and the 1948 appropriation for other funds follow:

Aid to the Blind, $20,000; and $19,700; Aid to Dependent Children, $117,701 and $116,700; Auto License and Gas Tax fund, $380,000 and $377,600.

Aid to the Blind and Aid to Dependent Children funds are supplemented by state and federal funds, included in those figures.

The budget calls for $40,000 for the Soldiers' and Sailors' Relief fund compared to an appropriation of $36,860 this year.

ELECTION COSTS DOWN

The board of elections figure for 1949 is $28,000 compared to an appropriation of $36,000 for this presidential election year.

The state examiner's salary was $4,000, in the 1948 appropriation, compared to $1,000 in the 1949 budget, since his work will be completed by early 1949

For other offices, the 1949 budget figure compared with the 1948 appropriation are:

County commissioner's office, $13,800, up $1,905; county home, $48,000, up $490; auditor, $41,500, up $1,520; treasurer, $25,000, up $1,640; recorder, $20,000, up $1,044; prosecutor, $13,000, up $495; common pleas court, $17,600, down $1,186; probate juvenile court, $37,400, up $2,525; sheriff's office, $50,000, up $2,596; children's home, $49,000, up $750.

One-third of the funds for operating the county engineer's office come out of the general fund, and in the 1949 budget calls for an expenditure of $22,500, up $2,705. The remaining two-thirds comes out of the automobile license and gasoline tax funds.

World War II Vets Win Legion Control

Joseph Denig was unanimously elected commander of the American Legion Earle D. McVey Post No. 16 last night as World War II veterans swept to victory in eight out of nine office contests. Last year, World War II veterans held only four of the positions of leadership.

Robinson Keffer was the only veteran of World War I to retain his office. He was elected to serve as finance officer. He had been acting finance officer for a month before the election.

Other World War II veterans who won election were Charles Boughton, senior vice commander; Robert Dickerson, junior vice commander; John Fuller, adjutant; Rev. John G. Gensel, chaplain; Karl Bogner, sergeant at arms, and Paul Wentz and Martin Henke, color bearers.

McVey post with a membership of approximately 1,600 veterans, is composed almost equally of veterans of both wars.

The election of World War II veterans to Legion offices in Mansfield foreshadows the day when younger men all over the nation will direct the destinies of the Legion.

Sports For All Residents Offered In Maple Lake Park

There are no recreational problems this summer for residents in the area of Maple Lake park. When the dinner dishes are done, residents may walk over to the park, where badminton, croquet, shuffle board and horseshoes may be enjoyed in the playground under the big park lights.

Completion of this recreational area for adults was one of the satisfactory items announced at a meeting of the South and Maple Lake Park association last night.

Progress also was reported in the filling in of the lake bed, where all the tile on hand has been laid and more has been ordered for delivery this week. A big bulldozer has covered up the accumulated trash and the lake bed is beginning to look like the improved area park association officials had envisioned.

The rest rooms are nearing completion.

At the meeting last night the possibility of using glass bricks instead of the conventional windows and frames for the rest rooms was discussed. This was thought advisable because more than 200 windows have been destroyed in the park.

Harry Sowash was selected to plan future programs, and tentative plans were also made for the August membership drive.

By CHARLEY STINE

JACK LYONS, TAPPAN Stove softballer . . . although probably better known for his basketball playing, Jack is well at home on the diamond. . . . Played third base for Farm Tools last year and switched to the initial sack for Tappan.

First gained athletic prominence as one of the starting five of the 1939 Senior high school basketball team which went to the state tournament. Teamed with Johnny Hallabrin at the guard. Finished in a three-way tie for leading scorer of the team . . . After graduating from high school attended Ohio Wesleyan for one year and played on the cage team. . . . In the spring of '40 went to work for Tappan "just for the summer." . . . Hasn't left yet except for a 3½-year hitch in the Army which took him to Europe. . . . Is looking forward to playing for Tappan's first basketball team next winter . . . Played City league basketball for various teams every year except when in the Army . . . Now 27, he is married and lives at 269 West Third street . . . Contrary to many local fans, he is an ardent Lou Boudreau follower and is rooting for the Indians to come home in front of the American league pack.

Ralph Bonanata, 15-year-old Hot Stove league ball player . . . Plays centerfield for Gene Hartnett's Junior league Police team. Also leads the team in hitting with a scorching .714 average . . .

Got his biggest sports thrill when he hit a triple in the first game of the season, his first in baseball. Also plays center field for the North Lake park softball team, the only other team of which he was ever a member . . . Likes basketball, bowling and ping pong and plans to attend Ohio State, but we think there is a mistake somewhere . . . With his surname and natural athletic ability he would make Notre Dame a whale of a football prospect . . . Will be in the 11th grade at St. Peter's high school next fall . . . Hopes to make the American Legion team next year . . . Son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bonanata of 167 East Third street . . . Idolizes Pat Mullin, Detroit outfielder . . . Hurls No-Hitter

WILKES-BARRE, Pa — (AP) — Southpaw Dick Rozek, of the Wilkes-Barre club and a farmhand of the Cleveland Indians, hurled a no-hitter against Elmira last night in the Class A Eastern league. He fanned 15 and walked nine in winning, 2-1.

Elmira's run came in the third on three walks and a double steal.

Bob Feller Looks Good In Winning

The Tribesmen demonstrated that last night as they overpowered the cellar occupants 10 to 2 and maintained their first place margin of 10 percentage points over the Philadelphia Athletics.

The triumph snapped a two-game Cleveland losing streak and also put Bob Feller back on the victory side of the ledger.

Feller survived a rocky first inning to coast to his ninth win against the same number of defeats.

WILD AT START

Wild in the opening stanza, Feller gave the Sox two runs on three hits and a pair of walks.

The first two Sox batters, Don Kolloway and Dave Philley, singled and then advanced on a sacrifice. Former Indian Pat Seerey walked to load the bases. Feller fanned Aaron Robinson but Taft Wright's single scored two runs.

The Tribe fireballer walked Luke Appling to fill the sacks again and Satchel Paige, the veteran Negro hurler who signed with the Indians yesterday, began to warm up as a possible replacement.

The Tribe sewed up the game with a six-run splurge in its half of the same inning.

GETS ONLY ONE

Starter Earl Caldwell was able to retire only one batter before being replaced by Bob Gillespie. Dale Mitchell and Johnny Berardino singled. A single by Manager Lou Boudreau scored Mitchell and Joe Gordon's single plated Berardino. Ken Keltner walked and a fifth single, this one by Walt Judnich, scored Boudreau and Gordon.

Gillespie then took over and walked Jim Hegan to fill the bases. Feller then sent a high bounder to Gillespie, whose throw home forced Keltner. However, Catcher Robinson threw wildly to first in trying for a double play, permitting Judnich and Hegan to trot home with the fifth and sixth runs of the inning.

Bob Regula Holds Marion To Two Hits

MARION—Bobby Regula turned in another one of his brilliant pitching jobs here last night as he got Mansfield Gorman-Rupp off to a good start in the second half race of the North Central Ohio Inter-City softball league.

Gorman-Rupp defeated Marion Smitty's Grill, 1-0, on a fourth inning home run by Kenny Windsor.

Regula allowed Marion only two hits, a single in the third inning and another in the fifth. Fats Millisor, on the mound for Smitty's, held Gorman-Rupp to five.

John Stranski Hurls No-Hit Victory, 21-0

John Stranski of the Exchange club took over the spotlight of the Hot Stove junior baseball league yesterday as he put on a one-man show in beating the Moose club 21-0.

Stranski hurled a no-hit game, allowing only three men to reach first base and banged out three triples and two singles himself. He walked two, allowed one man to get on by an error and struck out 13.

The victory kept the Exchange club team undefeated along with the Police Recreation committee which trounced Carpenter buses by a 26-4 score.

In elementary games Brinkerhoff topped West Fifth, 10-9, and Prospect topped Bushnell, 21-1. Larry Zartman pitching his seventh win for Prospect, allowed three hits and hit two home runs and a single.

Cannibal Giants Replace Bearded Team Here Today

The Louisville Zulu Cannibal Giants have replaced the House of David as opponents of the Mansfield Grays today, because of a reported auto accident which injured five House of David players.

The game with the Giants will get underway at 5:30 p. m. at Blue Goose field.

The House of David team today informed Business Manager John Heckert of the Grays that five of their players had been injured in an accident in New York state.

They had been scheduled to appear in a night game here, bringing their own portable lights.

Legion Junior Team Held To Tie Decision

The Mansfield American Legion junior baseball game battled to a 3-to-3 tie with Ohio Sport Center of the Hot Stove Major league yesterday at Liberty park.

The Legion club counted three times in the fifth to assume a 3-to-1 lead. However, Sport Center scored single runs in the sixth and seventh to knot the contest.

Dewey Durant's club had won 10 straight and will participate in the district five tournament starting Saturday at Bellevue.

Dodgers Run Win Streak to 6 Straight; Philadelphia Edges New York, 4 to 3

By JOE REICHLER
AP Sports Writer

The unpredictable Brooklyn Dodgers were riding high today on the wings of a six-game winning streak—and threatening to catch the leaders before the month is out.

The latest Brooklyn victory march not only enhanced the Dodgers' chances to retain their National league championship, but may have halted, for the time being at least, rumors that Leo Durocher is on the way out as manager.

It is no secret that Durocher must make a good showing this year or quit.

Meanwhile, the Dodgers find themselves in the best position they've been all season. Last night's 4-3 victory in 11 innings over the Boston Braves in Ebbets field left them in fifth place, only a game behind the first division New York Giants. They trail the pace-setting Braves by six and a half games, but are only four games behind in the important losing column.

The Cleveland Indians maintained their slim 10-percentage point bulge on the Philadelphia Athletics in the American league race by trouncing the Chicago White Sox, 10-2. The A's also won their game, edging out the Yankees at New York, 4-3.

Hank Majeski, a Yankee castoff, was the big gun for the A's. The hard-hitting third baseman walloped a home run and triple to drive in three runs against his former mates. Tommy Byrne was the victim.

Trailing 2-6, the Washington Senators suddenly came to life with a five-run rally in the top of the ninth to nip the Red Sox at Boston, 7-6. Manager Joe McCarthy who started with Boo Ferriss, used five pitchers in a frantic attempt to halt the Nats.

Hal Newhouser became the first Detroit pitcher to twirl a shutout this season when he blanked the St. Louis Browns, 6-0 for his 12th victory. He has lost six.

Pittsburgh moved past St. Louis into second place in the National league by defeating the Cardinals, 2-1. The Pirates scored the tie-breaking run in the top of the ninth when Wally Westlake followed Ralph Kiner's double with a run-producing single. The Pirates, who boast a half-length lead over the Cards, now trail the Braves by 2½ games.

Larry Jansen limited the Philadelphia Phillies to two hits in pitching the New York Giants to a 7-0 triumph. He had a no-hitter until Richie Ashburn scratched an infield hit in the seventh. Johnny Mize collected four hits off Curt Simmons.

Hopping off to a 5-0 lead in the first inning, the Reds went on to gain an easy 10-3 victory over the Cubs in Chicago. It was the only game played in the majors in daylight.

Mansfield Golfers Shut Out In Columbus Tourney

Mansfield will be without a representative when the better-than-100 man field tees off in the first round of the Columbus Open tomorrow.

Joe Mayer, pro at the Cook Road driving range who had planned to enter the tournament, was ruled ineligible because he has not yet joined the Professional Golfers association. Mayer plans to join the PGA and will enter the Ohio Open in Toledo late this month.

Dale Rose, the other Mansfielder who was up for entry in the joust, was turned along with all other alternates because all regular qualifiers registered for play.

The field, headed by Bobby Locke, Lloyd Mangrum and all other "names" except Ben Hogan, Jimmy Demaret, and Sammy Snead, will begin teeing off at 8 a. m. tomorrow. Eighteen holes will be played the first two days and 36 Sunday.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

BATTING—Hank Majeski, Athletics—Blasted a triple and a home run to drive in three runs and lead the Athletics to a 4-3 victory over the New York Yankees.

Casting Test Set Friday

A public casting contest sponsored by the Mansfield Casting club will be held at Liberty park at 6:30 p. m. tomorrow.

Entrants will cast at five rings which have been anchored in the lake at the park and which will remain there for practice casting. The contest for bait casters, will operate the same as the skish contest held early in the spring

Earl Horning, chairman of the organization committee of the Casting club and Kenneth Woodman of the Richland County Fish and Game Protective association are in charge of the program.

Olympic Track Selection Gets Underway Tomorrow

By TED SMITS

EVANSTON, Ill. —(AP)— Selection of the American Olympic track team counted on to win ten firsts at London starts tomorrow at 6 p. m., EST., in Northwestern university's Dyche stadium and concludes Saturday afternoon.

There was increasing confidence on all hands. With one notable exception, the 200 athletes have come this far without serious injuries. Even Gil Dodds, best of the distance men who has a strained achilles tendon in his left leg, is rounding back into shape.

Next Monday the track squad of about 65 men will assemble in New York for "processing" before the S. S. America sails on Wednesday with most of the American team. The exact number in track depends on how many spares are carried to round out the sprint and 1,600 meter relay teams.

The 1948 American Olympic team looks for eight of its 10 firsts in the field events, and two in the hurdles.

But there is a possibility one American may achieve a sprint victory which would make up for any losses over the longer flat races. He is Mel Patton of Southern California, slender and delicate. Whether his legs can stand the long series of Olympic trial heats is a big question.

After running the 100 yards dash in :09.3, one tenth of a second under the world record, he had leg trouble. But he won convincingly in the national collegiates and then bowed out of the national AAU championships.

Westbrook Leaders Face Interlachen

League-leading Pine Valley will meet Interlachen in the Westbrook Country club league Friday evening. Other matches will bring together Oakmont and Cherry Hills, Winged Foot and Canterbury, Tam-O-Shanter and Pebble Beach, Inverness and Olympia Fields and Fresh Meadow and Plum Hollow.

Cycle Races

Two Indians On Star List

Fourteen pitchers were named to the major league all-star squads by Managers Bucky Harris and Leo Durocher.

Harris named six men, including two Cleveland Indians, to the American loop squad, while Durocher picked only six. The Clevelanders honored are Bob Lemon and Bob Feller.

Other American league pitchers are: Vic Raschi and Joe Page, Yankees; Hal Newhouser, Tigers; Walt Masterson, Senators; Joe Haynes, White Sox, and Joe Coleman, Athletics.

The National leaguers are: Elmer Riddle, Pirates; Ewell Blackwell, Reds; Ralph Branca, Dodgers; Harry Brecheen, Cardinals; Johnny Schmitz, Cubs, and Johnny Sain, Braves.

The American and National teams will battle July 13 in St. Louis.

PITCHING—Larry Jansen, Giants—Shut out the Philadelphia Phillies 7-0 on two singles after pitching hitless ball for six frames.

More Spectacular Shows Promised

Stadium Seen Key to Bigger Program

An indication of how Mansfield high school's new stadium, once its big $280,000 debt is paid, will permit expansion of other athletic and high school activities was seen today in figures released by the Tyger Booster club on "income" and "outgo" resulting from the 1947 football season.

The club plans soon to launch an intensive membership campaign which it hopes will provide revenue needed to permit the Senior high Marching Tyger band to present some of the spectacular between-halves shows the band has been unable to present in the past because of lack of necessary equipment.

First on the "better band" program is purchase of raincoats. Then will come "black lights" to permit more elaborate half-time displays. If the revenue holds out, there'll be other things to help the band—things that the Band Parents club for years has wanted but found itself unable to finance.

BIG DEBT IS HANDICAP

Directors pointed out that, with a $280,000 stadium debt to be paid from football receipts the athletic board cannot be expected at this time to finance the band.

But, they reasoned, if better equipment enables the Marching Tyger band to put on more spectacular shows, more and more people will come to the games, people who like the extra attractions as much as they like football itself.

The larger crowds will speed the day when the stadium dept is paid and speed also the day when the athletic board will be able to take of the annual football receipts to build a bigger and more all-inclusive athletic program for Mansfield youth — grade school and junior high school youngsters as well as Senior high school boys.

$13,254 PAID ON DEBT

Board members studied football revenue figures which showed that of the $46,945.23 taken in last season, $13,254 went to pay principal and interest on the stadium debt.

That sum, they reasoned, would go far to finence the ultimate objective of an athletic program which would include some type of activity for every boy or girl, irrespective of physical size.

It also would permit expansion of such other activities as band, debate, and glee club.

The payment on debt and the $8,243 paid in federal admissions taxes together took almost half of the total football revenue last year

Track, baseball, golf, tennis and other high school athletics profited to the extent of $2,117.46. Those sports fail to pay their own way. Basketball did not share in football receipts because it does pay its own way.

Other expenditures follow: new uniforms and other equipment, $4,808.57; guarantees paid visiting teams, $3,150; repairs, cleaning of uniforms and equipment, $3,064.20; team traveling expenses, $2,001.31; ticket printing, officials, other miscellaneous expenses, $2,985 63; doctor bills, X-ray, lights, stadium maintenance, $2,856.52.

After all those bills were paid, the athletic board used $4,464.54 to pay for construction work on the south stands which could not be financed by bonds.

Democrats Outnumber Republicans

Independents Hold Balance of Power

By ELMO ROPER

By this time next week, both major parties will have settled upon their candidates for the presidency in the November elections. Then the three-cornered race among the Democrats, Republicans and Wallace's third party will begin in earnest.

At the Republican convention in Philadelphia, there was a distinct atmosphere of confidence that this was a Republican year. Indeed, many Republican leaders seemed to believe that the voters had already made up their minds and there remained only the formality of the November elections.

It is true that the situation looks better for the Republicans than it has for years, but the facts do not quite warrant this extreme optimism. Neither party can claim a majority of the public as avowed members.

SAMPLING QUESTION

Over the last four years, we asked a cross-section of the voting public:

Regardless of how you have voted in the past, how do you usually think of yourself—as a Republican, a Democrat, a Socialist, or what?

	August 1944 %	Jan. 1947 %	June 1948 %
Democrat.....	46.2	39.1	42.0
Republican....	36.5	36 6	36 3
Other party....	.6	1.6	1.0
Independent....	7.7	17.0	18.2
No opinion.....	9.0	5.7	2.5

These results indicate that a plurality—but not a majority—of the voters have consistently considered themselves Democrats since 1944. The low point in voter preference for the Democratic party was just after the Republican landslide in the 1946 Congressional elections.

Since then, the Democrats have come back some but still have not regained the high of 46 per cent attained just before the 1944 presidential elections.

But if the Democrats are running slightly below the registration they were able to win four years ago, the Republicans have not shown any noticeable increase either. The number of voters who say their loyalty is with the Republican party has ranged fairly regularly from 33 to 37 per cent.

If this election were merely a contest between political parties, and not a race between the candidates of the parties, it would seem that a Democratic victory would result. But a large group of voters call themselves independents. They do not want to be regarded as belonging to any party. These voters amount to at least 18 per cent of the electorate today—enough to swing the election to either party.

Painter Faces Murder Charge

ATTLEBORO, Mass. —(AP)— A 33-year-old house painter, who Detective Inspector Howard O'Hare said "did a little dance" when he heard his wife was dead, was held today on a charge of murder.

O'Hare said Jasper A. Ganci surrendered a half hour after his wife, Marjorie, 32, attractive mother of three daughters, was shot and clubbed to death at a street intersection Tuesday night.
